THE EDITOR'S DESK

By Dave McChesney

Coco, Assistant Editor

Stormie, Editorial Assistant

Great that we've have club activities the past two months and have one coming up again this month. (See information in this edition of the REAR ENGINE REVIEW.) It's a sign things are getting back to normal.

As we return to a regular routine, let's not forget those things that allow an organization like this to function, such as having a paid up membership. We haven't stressed much over dues during the pandemic, but there are a lot of folks currently overdue. If you are unsure, look at the roster. The date, such as 06/21 after your name is the month and year your dues are set to expire. If we are well past that date, we simply want dues to be paid from this time forward.

Making money is not a priority for the Inland Northwest Corvair Club, but we do have expenses, and paying a meager $15.00 a year helps and lets fellow members know you are interested in and support our organization. Off the top of my head, expenses include renting our post office box, which probably our largest single expense, filing as a non-profit organization with the Washington State Secretary of State, and paying our annual Chapter Fee to CORSA. We also spend a little to print and mail copies of our newsletter. Today, however, those costs are minimal as most copies go out via e-mail. We print and mail less than a half dozen copies each month, a real change from the past when we'd print and mail several dozen. Thus, printing and postage have a minimal effect on our budget.

So as you think of it, please pay your dues if you are behind or due. Or if you would rather not continue as a member, please let someone in the club know.

As always, I'm open to and looking for inputs for our newsletter. Thank you to those who occasionally respond and provide me with material to include in the REAR ENGINE REVIEW.

IT'S NEVER TOO LATE!

If you have pictures or other information about Corvair or automotive events from the past, feel free to forward. I'll do my best to include them, regardless of how long ago the activity occurred.

TECH-N-TUNE

Fellow Inland Northwest Corvair Club member Roger Becker invited the club to a tech-n-tune event at his place in Colbert on Sunday the 16th of May. While billed as a technical session, the real purpose was to allow members to wash, wax, and in other words, prep their cars for display and showing over the summer.

Corvairs and more in Roger's driveway

Turnout for the event seemed to be less than expected, but a handful of core members put in an appearance. Your reporter doesn't recall seeing any cars, Corvairs or otherwise being washed, but at least one individual was working on cleaning interior windows. The glass was clouding up from the interior vinyl outgassing after prolonged exposure to the sun.

Shootin' the breeze!

A good part of the time was spend catching up with fellow members, many of whom we hadn't seen in some time. Present were Roger and Judy Becker (our hosts), Patrick Johns, Dave McChesney, Barry and Denice Myers, Craig Nicol, Dave Raezer, and Bob Sherman.

As the morning ended, all migrated to the patio for burgers and more.
