

Colonial Lady's Cap

Materials:

Hat ½ Yard of Percale or Muslin
 31” Herringbone Twill tape 1/4” width
 43” of ½” Bias tape
 45” of 5/8” lace
Bow 11” of 5/8” Satin ribbon w/picot edge
 Small brass pin

Directions:

Hat

1. Fold material in half and place pattern on fold or make a 14.5 inch diameter circle. Cut one piece.
2. Put the right side of the lace with flat edge on outside of circle on the right side of the cap. Bast ¼ inch from edge. Over lap ends of lace ¼ inch and sew together.
3. Turn to wrong side so lace forms outer edge and press. Sew hem down with a zigzag stitch on top side.
4. Place bias tape on casing line which is 1/2 inch from edge and fold each end under ½ inch leaving ¼ inch between ends to make opening where lace overlaps , then sew both sides of tape.
5. Use pin to pull twill tape through casing. Pull ends and tie to fit head.

Bow

Cut ribbon to 11 inches and tie into a bow. Pin to front of cap.
